KIDS OUTRAGED AT MIKE TYSON'S GUILTY VERDICT

Girl, 6, raped by two 7-year-old boys, say cops!

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

Two 7-year-old boys dragged a 6-year-old classmate into the girls' bathroom and brutally raped her — after watching TV coverage of Mike Tyson's rape trial, say cops.

The cruel assault during school hours left Indianapolis police and school officials stunned.

"I wouldn't have believed it could happen," said Police Sgt. David Walker.

"It's very scary to have kids this age charged with something that serious," said a deputy prosecutor.

One of the boys often watched violence on television and other TV shows considered unsuitable for children, a relative told police.

"And the boy was very disturbed that Mike Tyson was found guilty," according to one officer. The two boys — first-graders — face juvenile charges of rape, criminal deviate conduct, criminal confinement and battery.

"What I think we tend to do in society is devalue life," said Dr. Susanne Blix of the Indiana University School of Medicine.

"Instead of becoming more sensitive to people, we are becoming less sensitive."

One cop investigating the case said the two first-graders didn't appear to be sorry for what they did.

"They weren't exactly cocky, but neither did they seem remorseful," he said.

Both boys come from single-parent homes and have no previous criminal record. They will attend another school in the future, as will the victim.

Reform school is not an option for them since Indiana law prohibits anyone under 12 from being imprisoned.

Both boys likely will be required to receive extensive counseling and remain in home detention.

Great balls of wire!

Wire tycoon Lyle Linch, 86, claims to have the world's largest ball of barbed wire. And with his pride and joy weighing in at a whopping 5,295 pounds, few are bound to dispute his claim.

The ball — which Linch has named "Clonia" — contains 15 miles of barbed wire and measures nearly 23 feet around.

The Phoenix, Ariz., man keeps the gigantic trophy at his home and says he started the project in order to leave something to the world.

SURPRISE PARTY KILLS HEART PATIENT!

JUST home from surgery, recovering heart patient Austin Pharr reacts to shouts of "surprise" and "welcome home."

PHARR dies instantly — to the cheers of well-wishers — who still thought he was joking with them!

By JOE BERGER

Ailing oldster Austin Pharr's friends and family threw him a rip-snorting, champagne-swilling surprise party to welcome him home after open-heart surgery — and unsuspecting Austin got so excited he dropped dead on the spot!

"The poor guy took one look around his apartment and got kind of a shocked look on his face — then he keeled over like he'd been shot," sobbed his heartsick sister Deborah Smith, who took the snapshots of Austin's collapse.

"I thought he was acting, so I kept taking pictures.

"We just wanted to show him how much we loved him and how glad we were that he was okay again.

"Instead, we got carried away and killed him."

The easygoing gramps had undergone quadruple bypass surgery three weeks earlier after being felled by a heart attack while swimming with his grandkids in Kimberley, South Africa.

"We were so worried about him when they told us he was going to need to have an operation like that, but when it was over the doctors said he was going to be as good as new," his distraught daughter Terrie told reporters.

"As soon as we heard that, we all felt so relieved we started planning a bang-up party to welcome him home again.

"The doctors said Dad could have a little champagne, so we brought in a case of his favorite bubbly and invited 40 or 50 of his friends over and decorated the apartment and got everything ready for a super homecoming.

"Mom kept saying be sure and don't get him too excited — and we told her not to worry, that we had everything under control."

But moments after astonished Austin, 64, opened his apartment door and spied the surprise gathering, the retired teacher gasped and slumped to the floor dead.

"I'm sure everyone there meant well, but they're a bunch of idiots," sniffed indignant Dr. Royce Williams, who performed the delicate operation. "Everybody knows you don't subject someone who's just had open-heart surgery to

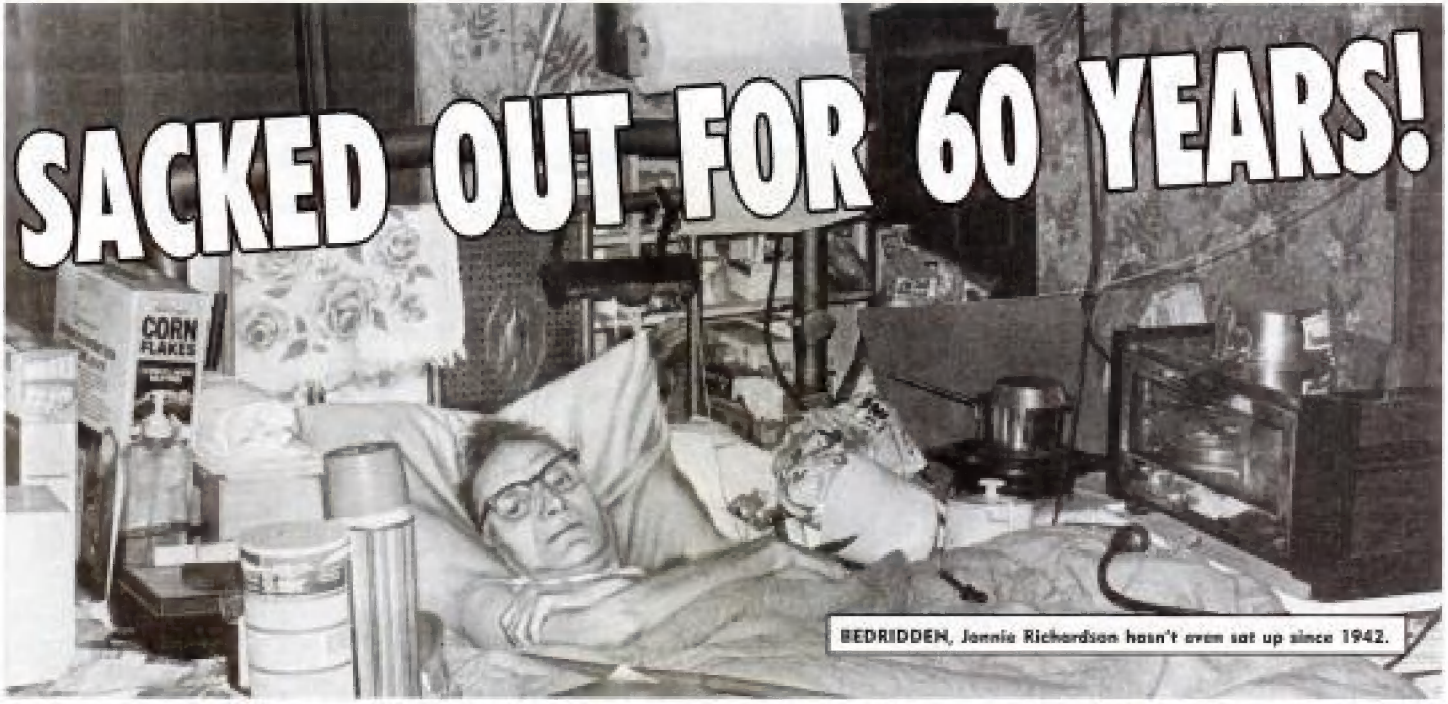
World's laziest man STILL flat on his back!



BEDRIDDEN, Jonnie Richardson hasn't even sat up since 1942.

By J.P. BARTON / Special correspondent

Mountain man Jonnie Richardson went to bed in 1932 and is now celebrating his 60th year in the sack!

The real-life Rip Van Winkle's incredible story was first told in the June 1, 1982 edition of Weekly World News. Ten long years have passed since that golden anniversary, but in Jonnie's bed-sized world nothing has changed but the seasons.

He went to bed in 1932 & hasn't gotten up yet!

"I'm still here, flat on my back and as worn-out as ever," said Jonnie in a telephone interview. "But I've got everything I need and I'm getting along.

"There's nothing I can complain about."

Jonnie was a farm boy of 16 in the hills near Laurel Springs, N.C., when doctors diagnosed him as having a goiter and a rapid heartbeat.

The doctors ordered him to bed. And that's where he has stayed — through the Great Depression, World War II, Vietnam and man's climb into space!

"I went to bed in 1932. I haven't sat up since 1942 and I haven't rolled over since 1960," said Jonnie. "I don't have bedsores either. It's a puzzlement to everyone."

Jonnie, 78, has everything he needs within easy reach of his beloved double bed, which is situated in a cramped corner of his ramshackle farmhouse.

An endless stream of water runs from an outside spring through a garden hose into a makeshift drain beside his bed.

Sister Bessie, who lives several miles away and is his closest neighbor, delivers groceries and takes away trash.

"I'm perfectly happy the way I am," Jonnie said.

He spends days peering through a window at the cattle, rabbits and deer that amble by his home. When that won't do, he might watch a little TV or listen to the radio.

"I don't listen to nothing but the news and weather and some hold a book long enough now. My eyes ain't so good anymore, either. It's a lonely world and a tiny one too."

But Jonnie has no regrets — and bristles at the suggestion that he move into a nursing home.

"This is the way it is, and the only thing I can do is try to stay in good health," he said. "There was a time when I figured I would be able to get up, but I don't expect that will ever happen. Things just ain't going to change. I'm going to stay right

LAZY Jonnie spends day after day gazing through the windows of his home as cattle, rabbits and deer scuttle about.

A laboratory test on mice that were given alcohol injections showed that the animals' memories were actually enhanced.

Drunken mice, for instance, stayed clear of certain areas of their cages that had been given an electric shock.

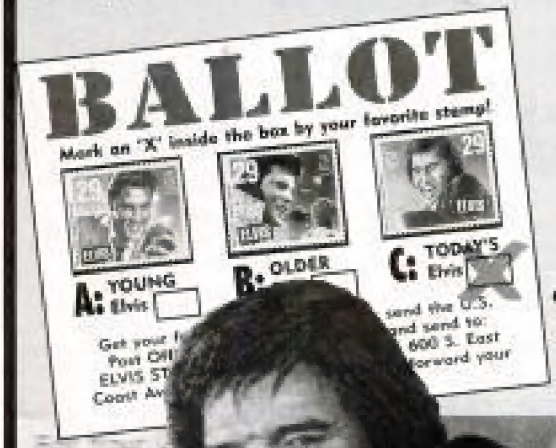
102,598 NEWS readers want stamp with TODAY'S Elvis!



TODAY'S Elvis, right, based on recent photo of Presley, below left, is the landslide winner in Weekly World News' Elvis stamp poll!

OVER 185,000 ballots, left, were received!

SECOND place went to the "Older Elvis" stamp, with 42,017 votes!

THIRD place went to the "Young Elvis" stamp, with 41,171 votes!

ELVIS — ALIVE! A housewife took this snapshot of Presley in St. Louis last year, proving to the world that The King is very much alive!

By MICHAEL TODD
Staff writer

Thousands of Weekly World News readers can't be wrong: The U.S. Postal Service missed the boat with its Elvis Presley stamp poll by not including a picture of The King as he appears today at the age of 57!

That's what we found after tallying the results of an exclusive NEWS poll which gave readers the opportunity to vote for one of two Elvis stamps that were created by the Postal Service as well as a third that was drawn by NEWS artist Dick Kulpa.

As The NEWS and other major media reported previously, postal authorities agreed to let the public choose between two designs after they decided to issue an Elvis stamp as part of their Legends of American Music Series. The agency's stamps portrayed the singer at two stages of his life — as a young man in the 1950s and a performer in his prime.

At the request of NEWS readers, we added a third choice based on a photo that was taken front of a theater in St. Louis last July. Our stamp depicted an older, wiser and very much alive Elvis — exactly as he appears today.

When all was said and done 185,788 NEWS readers responded to our poll. Of those, 102,598 — that's 55 percent — preferred the stamp showing Presley as he is today.

Coming in second with 42,017 or 23 percent of votes was the stamp showing Elvis in his prime. In third place with 41,171 or 22 percent of votes was the stamp of a young Elvis.

As promised, we're forwarding the results of our poll to postal authorities who are expected to announce the winner of their own poll later this month.

BLIND MAN GETS FOUR GET-WELL CARDS — HIS DOG GETS THOUSANDS!

SMOKEY was flooded with get-well wishes.

By JACK ALEXANDER / Staff writer

When a blind man and his guide dog were badly injured by an out-of-control cab, hundreds of people sent get-well cards to the pooch — and virtually ignored the poor old blind guy.

Nearly everyone who shopped or worked in New York City's business district had seen sightless Thomas Armstrong selling pencils on the street, closely watched by his faithful guide dog, Smokey.

"People were concerned when they were struck by a cab in front of Tiffany's," said police patrolman Joe Wycoff.

But most of the concern was for the gentle Labrador, who suffered an eye injury and severe cuts and bruises. Smokey received thousands of cards, 400 phone calls and hundreds of dollars for the Smokey Get Well Fund.

On the other hand, Armstrong, 64, must have wished he could lead a dog's life.

Only four people sent get-well cards and five people took the time to visit him at the hospital while he recuperated from a smashed leg and a severed blood vessel.

"It's surprising but not totally unexpected," said Officer Wycoff. "There are more animal lovers than people lovers out there."

"Dear Little Smokey," read one letter with a dollar bill enclosed. "We know St. Francis will cure you with good doctors and nurses who are caring for you and you'll soon be well. You are a wonderful example of loyalty and courage."

Too bad the good old dog couldn't read because there were kind words for him in most of the get-well cards.

Over at Bellevue Hospital, Armstrong spent his time recuperating in a room without any flowers at all.

The old man and his dog have been released from the hospital, but Smokey lost an eye in the ordeal.

"I think there is enough money in the Smokey Get Well Fund for a guide dog for the both of them if Smokey can't function that way anymore," Wycoff said.

Study PROVES doctors have horrible handwriting!

Doctors really do have horrible handwriting. A study of 47 physicians revealed 77 percent had illegible handwriting and 17 percent were barely legible. To avoid embarrassing the docs, the hospital in the study wasn't identified.

'HAIR' COME DE JUDGE!

Wacko who gave jailbird a shampoo booted off the bench!

LOST his job: Ex-Judge Charles Guyer offered to reduce a jailbird's fines if the con would let him wash his hair.

BIZARRE story first appeared in the Oct. 8, 1991 edition of the Weekly World News.

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

A veteran judge has been booted off the bench after cops caught him in the act — getting a kinky kick out of shampooing a young man's hair.

"I don't know what came over me," said shamed judge Charles Guyer, 44, a bachelor who has served the people of Bedford County, Pa., for 23 years.

"I apologize to the court, my family and the people of Bedford County."

Police with a hidden video camera captured Guyer lathering the locks of Michael Weyant, 21, and two undercover cops posing as his pals, and making a pass at Weyant.

Guyer offered to reduce Weyant's fines and jail time in exchange for shampooing the hair of Weyant and two of his friends, police said.

Cops were listening through a recording device when the judge showed up at Weyant's house to discuss the shampooing and other sexual shenanigans, cops said.

Three days later the judge "proceeded to wash Weyant's hair and, unknowingly, the hair of two undercover agents from the attorney general's office, and agreed to assist Weyant with his pending criminal matters," according to charges filed against Guyer.

The attorney general's office said the judge's shampooing routine included rubbing up against the three men.

Guyer was charged with bribery and indecent assault, but after plea-bargaining, he admitted a lesser charge of official suppression.

He was fined $80, placed on probation and ordered to undergo psychiatric testing.

DOCTOR SHORTAGE SENDING SICK FOLKS TO VETERINARIANS

The medical crisis in this country will soon be so severe, an expert says, that millions of people will be standing in line behind dogs and cats — waiting for veterinarians to treat their ailments!

Already the shortage of doctors in rural America has closed clinics and left thousands of country folk with no medical care except for veterinarians, according to Nick Cooper, head of Americans for Better Health Care. The crisis threatens to get worse with each passing month as doctors quit practicing to avoid astronomical malpractice insurance.

"There's going to come a time when half of rural Americans will be dependent on vets for medical care," says Cooper, who is demanding federally funded scholarships for med students.

"They'll be vying for appointments with sick cows, for Pete's sake.

"Imagine what it's going to feel like to walk into a doctor's office and be told, 'You'll have to wait. The turtle was here first.' "

Veterinarians receive training in treating infections, physical problems like heart ailments and liver malfunctions, diseases, broken bones and countless other complaints.

They perform surgery and regularly prescribe medications for their animal clients that can also be used by humans.

Nick Cooper

Cooper says the shift from animal to human practice wouldn't be difficult for the average competent vet — and will probably become necessary as health care for people becomes harder and harder to come by. But the switch won't bode well for the future of health care in America, the health activist says.

"Within 10 years, many of us can expect to get antibiotics from our vets instead of our physicians," Cooper says. "We can expect emergency treatment for burns, cuts and broken bones at the vet's office. We will even be making appointments for minor surgery with our vets, because the tients with major health problems they won't have time to take care of everyday medical needs.

"Needless to say, if things get to this point Americans are going to be in bad shape. And America's pets are going to be suffering, too, because vets will be treat them." Cooper says taxpayers can head off the medical crisis by writing their Congressmen and demanding that the government underwrite med school educations for promising students.

CIA/ALIEN CONNECTION EXPOSED!

The following books contain dramatic details concerning the U.S. government's attempt to keep hidden from the public the greatest truth of all time... the fact that interplanetary visitors have arrived upon our cosmic shores.

Eight U.S. Presidents have been aware of the facts.

It has been said that John F. Kennedy was assassinated because he was about to reveal the existence of a super intelligence group known as "MJ-12" who have had in their possession since the late 1940s wreckage of space craft as well as bodies of small, gray-colored extraterrestrials.

WARNING: READ THESE BOOKS AT YOUR OWN RISK

❶ MJ-12 AND THE RIDDLE OF HANGAR 18
by Timothy Green Beckley

Now for the first time here are all the facts about this "Cosmic Watergate," released because the public has a right to know the truth. Here are suppressed CIA/FBI/State Department documents proving the U.S. possesses remains of UFOs and alien beings. Chapters include Inside the Flying Saucers—The Aztec Crash—The Downed Los Alamos Saucer—Inside Hangar 18—Did A UFO Crash in Central Park?—Alien Artifact Uncovered—Day A UFO Crashed Inside Russia—Alien Dies On Military Base—The Mysterious Professor Tells All—Night A UFO Came Crashing Down Over Ohio—Occupants Repair Disabled Craft—The Inside Story of "Majestic 12." Contains alleged photographs of badly burned aliens that crashed in Southwestern United States. Also "Photo Album" included. 210 pages—$15.00.

❷ THE PHILADELPHIA EXPERIMENT & OTHER UFO CONSPIRACIES
by Brad & Sherry Steiger with Alfred Bielek

In 1943, the U.S. Navy secretly accomplished the teleportation of a warship from Philadelphia to a dock near Norfolk by successfully applying Einstein's Unified Field Theory. The experiment also caused the crew of the ship to become invisible, during which time they were sent to a time-space warp into another dimension. The majority of the crew continued to experience devastating "side effects" the rest of their lives, becoming invisible and catching on fire. For the first time a survivor of the experiment tells his personal story and how the project was actually the result of alien technology. The book also covers other classified "Black Projects" such as genetic cloning, age regression and progression and time travel—$15.00.

❸ COSMIC TOP SECRET—AMERICA'S SECRET UFO PROGRAM
by William Hamilton (Introduction by John Lear)

At this very moment within the confines of a secret military base in Nevada the U.S. military is test flying craft from other worlds which they have obtained as the result of these objects crash landing on Earth. "There is," says the author, "proof that Top Secret, compartmentalized projects within the military-industrial complex are working on extremely advanced super-technology based on alien artifacts recovered—$13.00.

❹ SUBTERRANEAN WORLDS INSIDE EARTH
by Timothy Green Beckley

This may be the biggest cover-up in history! Is the Earth hollow? Is our planet honeycombed with caverns inhabited by a race of super beings? Are the residents of this subsurface world friendly or do they have our domination in mind? Here is a Space Age mystery that is stranger than fiction. These are the strange and unexplainable legends of the "Wee People," the Dero of the Shaver Mystery, and the long-haired Atlantean giants as encountered by cave explorers and miners trapped beneath the surface. Learn of the disappearance of Col. Fawcett while in search of a hidden city in the jungle, and the existence of the "Jersey Devil" said to roam the shoreline on rain-soaked nights.—$13.00

❺ THE ULTIMATE DECEPTION
by Commander X

The most sensational government conspiracy of our time is finally revealed to the world by a retired military officer. This book is dedicated to those few brave souls who have risked their lives to leak the story of the century to a public that has long been held in a state of "blissful ignorance."

This is a conspiracy that leads right up to the front gate of the White House, and involves the agreement forged between the military and a group of ETs referred to as the EBEs (short for Extraterrestrial Biological Entities). As part of this conspiracy, the government has literally "sold out" our citizens by extending to the EBEs the right to abduct humans and to plant monitoring devices in their brains, in exchange for technical and scientific data. "Our only hope for survival," says Commander X, "is a second group of benevolent ETs—most commonly referred to as the 'Nordic-types'—who believe in the universal law of 'non-interference.'"—$15.00.

❻ UNDERGROUND ALIEN BASES
by Commander X

Aliens have established underground bases around the planet. An ancient tunnel system has existed on Earth since the time of Atlantis. Entrance ways can be found in many major cities. Some government and military officials have taken the side of the aliens. Here are bizarre stories about underground bases at Dulce, New Mexico; Groom Lake, Nevada; South and North Pole; Mt. Shasta, California, as well as in the Andes. Here also are the first-hand reports of individuals who have been abducted, and have survived genetic experiments in these locations—$15.00.

❼ THE UFO SILENCERS—MYSTERY OF THE MEN IN BLACK
by Timothy Green Beckley

One by one they have warned witnesses to remain silent! Who are these strange beings who have become so much a part of unexplained aerial phenomena? Are they military agents? Do they represent a "Secret Government?" Or are they extraterrestrial entities themselves? Here are reports so bizarre that many of them defy any sort of Earthly explanation—$13.00.

I WENT TO HEAVEN — AND WON $50 AT BINGO

Special Report
By JOE BERGER
Staff writer

FOUR numbers and BINGO! Anna Danell was dead for 39 minutes and says she won $50 in a heavenly game.

Miracle mom Anna Danell died in a hospital emergency room and was swept away to heaven, but the amazing lady returned to life 39 minutes later — after winning 50 bucks playing Bingo beyond the grave!

And elated Anna, 48, woke up clutching a marked Bingo card she says proves she not only played the game in paradise — she won with four straight numbers.

"I know it's going to be hard for people to believe that something like this could really happen, because it came as quite a jolt to me, too," said the shell-shocked Chicago secretary. "But trust me. I went to heaven — and I whipped their tails at Bingo while I was there."

And dumbfounded doctors say they can't dispute Bingo-crazy Anna's astonishing story.

"All I can say is, one minute this woman was lying here dead and we were unable to revive her," said confused cardiologist Dr. Manuel Dominguez. "And the next minute she was alive and holding a marked-up Bingo card in her hand. You figure it out, because we can't."

Unsuspecting Anna's excursion into the unknown began two months ago while she and her 7-year-old son were vacationing in Spain. A runaway van jumped a curb in Cordoba and was headed straight for her little boy till frantic Anna leaped in front of the speeding auto and pulled the kid to safety, but suffered a massive heart attack moments after her daring rescue. She was rushed to a hospital, where doctors pronounced her dead.

"We were all set to wheel her body off to the morgue when suddenly a nurse noticed she'd come around — and a damn Bingo card had just sort of materialized in her hand," Dr. Dominguez said.

Days later, the dazzled divorcee told how she felt herself rising from her body and being drawn down a long tunnel into a kingdom of indescribable peace and beauty.

"I was floating inward a brilliant light at the end of the tunnel, and suddenly I was there, in a place so special I knew nothing could ever harm me again," Anna recalled. "Then all at once, my dear dead mother appeared at my side.

"She took my hand and told me, 'You're in heaven now, Honey, but you can't stay. You have a little boy at home who needs you.' But everyone there seemed so happy, I begged to stay just a few minutes more."

And gambling Anna, who's hit her local Bingo hall twice a week for the past 20 years, suddenly found herself seated with her mother and dozens of other women — playing Bingo like there was no tomorrow.

"Mom said I could stay and play just one game and she picked out a card for me," the recuperating lady told a reporter. "And the next thing I knew, lo and behold, I'd won the game and they were peeling off my $50 in winnings.

"I told them, 'You keep the 50 bucks, but let me take my card home as a souvenir' — and suddenly I was back in the hospital again.

"Now, when I think about it, I'm sure they threw the game and let me win — but that's what heaven is all about, isn't Hitler had a secret crush on Marlene Dietrich!

Adolf Hitler was hot to trot for Marlene Dietrich. The Fuhrer was furiously in love with the late great screen siren, but the she-devil had other things on her mind.

"Hitler wanted me to be his mistress," she once said. "Maybe I should have gone to him. I might have saved the lives of 6 million Jews."

What the mother of all femmes fatale did save and crave was plastic.

"She was addicted to Tupperware. She couldn't get enough of the stuff," says a friend of an Air France worker who helped Marlene support her bizarre habit.

"Her biggest complaint about France was that they didn't have Tupperware."

How to look in control even if you're sweating bullets!

You can appear to be confident and self-assured — even when you're nervous or apprehensive — simply by using certain elements of body language, says an expert.

"Learn how to use nonverbal messages to say, 'I'm someone important,' and you can get control of any face-to-face encounter," declares Allan Pease, author of Signals. Here is the body language he suggests:

- Tilting your palm downward when shaking hands. This signals that you intend to take control in the encounter.
- Extending your hand with the palm downward when making a request.

This gesture is a form of silent command — it tells the other person that you're actually giving an order, not just asking him to do something.

- Resting your fingertips together to form a steeple while in a conversation. This indicates you have a positive, self-assured attitude.
- Linking your fingers behind your head, resting your head on them.

This shows you're self-assured and comfortable — in fact, you're actually simulating leaning back in an easy chair!

- Slouching in a chair while visiting someone.

By doing this, you're signaling to the other person that you're dominant — because you're completely relaxed and informal in his territory.

Dial 'R' for robbery!

Ring of crooks held up stores by phone!

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

Some fraidy-cat crooks aren't man enough to hold up stores like self-respecting robbers anymore. Now the gutless creeps are doing it by phone — just like you'd order a pizza.

"They call up a store and threaten to blow the clerk away unless he or she puts money in a bag and takes it to a nearby drop point," said Police Maj. Brandon Clabes. "The frightened clerks think the robber is watching and do as he says."

More and more robberies-by-phone are being reported because crooks "let their fingers do the walking" rather than risk getting shot and arrested or both by robbing a store in person.

And if the crooks get caught, the charge likely would be extortion by force or fear rather than armed or unarmed robbery. Both are felonies, but armed robbery will put you in prison longer, according to Clabes.

Robbery-by-phone crooks have struck three times this year in Midwest City, Okla., with different results.

"One clerk was too smart to do what he said and called the police instead," Clabes said. "Another clerk did as she was told and the robber got away with the money. We caught the bad guys in another case."

Charged with extortion by force or fear were Robert J. Nichter, 27, Dena J. Hudson, 23, and Warren Hollis, 31, who are in a Midwest City jail awaiting trial.

"By using a phone to rob a place, these guys have turned robbery into a white collar crime and eliminated most of the danger to themselves," Clabes said.

"Even if we actually caught a crook picking up a bag of money at a designated drop spot, it might be tough to prove he was the same one who told a store clerk to put it there."

Clabes said robbery-by-phone-thieves have gotten away with the money in Tulsa and several other Oklahoma cities as well as in Nevada, Missouri and Colorado.

"ONLY government-inspected dog meat should be eaten," warned food quality expert Dr. Wu Ching Mao.

Chinese diners catch rabies from eating dog meat!

BEIJING — Worried health authorities are combating an outbreak of rabies among humans — by issuing a warning against eating dogs!

It is estimated that millions of gourmets in this Chinese city feast on plump puppies two or three times a year, and they're catching the deadly disease from their favorite meal.

"Many of these dogs are not government inspected and a high percentage of them harbor the rabies virus," said Dr. Wu Ching Mao, head of the government department of food quality. "When they are served raw or undercooked, the rabies virus infects human diners.

"ONLY government-inspected dog meat should be eaten. Only a government-inspected dog and to cook it very well. Rabies can be deadly."

Officials estimate that more than seven million dogs are consumed by Beijing residents each year, most of them broiled or spit-roasted and served with a ginger sauce. The delicacy is a favorite of the wealthy classes in and around the capital because dog meat — especially that of puppies under 4 months — is tender and sweet-tasting.

Each day in the city's posh restaurants, platters of whole roast puppies are brought to diners' tables and gourmets dig in. The puppies cost $100 apiece, with all the trimmings — and in spite of the recent rabies outbreak, they've still selling well.

"We have had reports of more than 1,530 cases of rabies in the last three months alone, all traced to eating dog meat," said Dr. Wu. "Of these, 258 have died a horrible death.

"We've had cases where dog-eaters went berserk with rabies and bit their own wives and children. Unless something is done to discourage people from eating contaminated pups, we're facing

Your pet's name reveals your personality!

"Here, Rover!" you yell, calling for your dog. You have just revealed your true personality.

That's because the name you give your pet also discloses what you're really like, according to behavior experts.

Here are various types of names people give their pets — and what those names reveal about the pet owners, according to the experts:

● Traditional names — If you pick a name like "Rover" or "Spot," you are down-to-earth, unpretentious and usually conservative. You are cautious about making changes in your life.

● Human names — You look upon your pet as a friend if you give it a common human name like "Mary" or "Bob." You're outgoing, friendly, honest, loyal and a family-oriented person.

● Celebrity names — Do you call your dog "Elvis," "Farrah" or "Sophia?" You are lively, adventurous, witty and looking for excitement.

● Aggressive names — You are physically assertive if you name your pet "Thunder," "Stalker," or any other aggressive name. You prefer the outdoors and physical activity to watching TV.

● Far-out names — People who call a white cat "Blackie" or their dog "Dog" are individuals who like to shock others. They like the unusual and tend to be audacious.

● Exotic names — Names like "Chang," "Ming" or "Jasmine" are usually given to pets by people who long for adventure, love to travel and are attracted to the new and unusual.

THE GOLDEN MASK OF TUTANKAMEN

They acquired The Mask and got fabulous fortunes: Eloise Graham — Alfred Miller — Ann Harris — Rose Anderson — Nina Baratelli — James Gonzalez — Michael Wagner — Estela Cruz — Yen F. Lee — Erika Walmer — Mary Leonard — Elpidia Gimenez Rey — mysteriously won more than 1 MILLION. Take a look at some of their testimonies.

My name is William Shake. I was born in Manchester, England, and I wish to speak to all the people who have been followed by bad luck for most of their lives. Those people who always lose, who never progress, and who want to have more money and can't? Those who think that making too much money is impossible.

The following people give their testimonies. They sent for the Golden Mask of Tutankamen, famous around the world, and in a short time after receiving it their lives changed forever. Here are some of their testimonials:

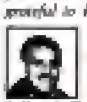
Since I've had the mask hanging on my neck, I've won three jackpots at the Casino. I purchased a beautiful home, and today I collect antique gold jewelry.
Eloise Graham.

I ordered the mask and in two months I made three real estate deals with a small amount of money and I made $1,250,000 profit.
Alfred Miller

I purchased the mask in Egypt and upon my return I was a millionaire who is my husband today.
Ann Harris

It was incredible. I purchased the golden mask and that same night I dreamed she is number nine that came out in the California Lotto.
Rose Anderson

I am very happy. I didn't believe in anything like that. The Golden Mask of Tutankamen was given to me and in a few days I inherited a fortune from a relative I never met. I will forever be grateful to King Tut.
Nina Baratelli



I bet my last dollar with the golden mask right in my right hand. I won and since then I have been winning in everything. My family could not believe it. Today we are rich and whenever I go, the Mask of Tutankamen goes with me. Everyone in my family has their own.
James Gonzalez

START WINNING NOW!

I want you to imagine yourself winning a lot of extra money. More than a lot. In huge quantities like those people who gave their testimonials. They were people who suffered, had difficulties, but were able to reach happiness, luck and money thanks to the Golden Mask of Tutankamen. Stop losing now!

I guarantee that with The Golden Mask of Tutankamen you will be able to obtain all that you desire. Did you know that this mask protects many famous people? Stars that you see every day on television, government officials and powerful employers have it, but they never admit it. Did you know that it protects them from negative influences and envy? Did you know that there are people who have the Golden Mask as a very strong symbol of power and money? Don't say, "I don't believe in these things." What benefits come to the skeptic or to the disbeliever?

Don't wait a second longer for your life to change overnight. You will be able to fulfill all your wishes. Furthermore, you will lose absolutely nothing. This bet I will make with you: If you do not obtain extra cash money within 30 days, you can return it and we will return your money. What do you lose? Nothing!

The Golden Mask of Tutankamen comes with "The Method and Secret Directions for Your Personal Use." In these instructions, I explain what to do with it, how to ask for wishes, how to take care of it, and how to wear it.

It would be very sad for you to allow this unique opportunity for all your wishes to come true to pass without taking advantage of it. It is the opportunity to try something different for the first time. Something magic, new, miraculous. Just once in a lifetime. What can you lose?

Today's TV families destroying America!

MY AMERICA

By ED ANGER

I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take it anymore. And I'm talking about all the un-American liberal garbage they're passing off as family TV shows these days.

Vice Prez Quayle isn't the smartest guy in the world but he had it right when he called that Murphy Brown show downright sinful. That was after the main character on the show decided to have a baby with NO INTENTION of getting married, for crying out loud.

The vice prez said it was this kind of women's lib crapola that has made sponging off welfare America's biggest growth industry.

And he's dead on target, by gum. Gals who have babies and don't get hitched are rolling downhill like a snowball headed for hell. Men are STILL the big breadwinners in this country and everybody knows it.

And these other TV shows that spend so much time trashing the American family ought to be given the heave-ho, too.

I'm talking about slop like Married . . . With Children with that no-good father figure Al Bundy and The Simpsons with Bart's wimpy dad Homer, who lets his bratty kid and nagging wife make his life miserable.

And that sleazy Full House where three prissy men are raising a family. That, folks, is just plain sickening.

Whatever happened to those great American families like the Nelsons on The Ozzie and Harriet Show? Ozzie was the solid rock dad and Harriet was the old-fashioned housewife who cooked and sewed and minded the kids, David and Little Ricky Ricardo.

Let's face it. Every family in America ought to be like the Cleaver family we all loved so much on Leave It to Beaver.

June Cleaver didn't dump Ward and try to raise the Beav and Wally and Eddie Haskell by herself, now did she?

If she had, The Beaver would have been in a street gang. Wally would have ended up a drug addict. Eddie Haskell would have become a looter and Lumpy woulda been a gay hooker!

And what about Robert Young in Father Knows Best and that late-great mom Donna Reed, and June Lockhart who raised Timmy and Lassie, and Dennis The Menace's mom and dad?

Every one of these great American families had a mom and a dad and that's why there wasn't all this crime and

Ed's fed up with trash the liberals are putting on television!

ED ANGER TV POLL

YES ☐

I agree with Ed that today's "family" TV shows are disgusting and contribute to all the crime and welfare that is bringing America to its knees! And I think Ross Perot is the man to put a stop to this crap!

NO ☐

The liberal cartel that wants to bring America down has every right to put on these sinful shows like Murphy Brown and Married . . . With Children.

Man uses rock music to scare off skunks!

If you think that rock music has no value, you're wrong. It scares skunks away.

That's what a 75-year-old man discovered when he was suddenly confronted with a family of skunks in his Dallas, Ore., home.

The skunks made a home in everything to get the skunks out. When nothing worked he resorted to rock music.

He said the idea came to him when he thought "maybe the skunks would hate this music as much as I do."

The only problem was it took two days with the radio on full blast before the skunks left.

ANYONE CAN DESTROY A SATELLITE

. . . from his own backyard!

By PETER FENTON / Special correspondent

Anyone with a backyard satellite dish, some Army surplus equipment and a little know-how can knock out communication satellites thousands of miles in space, experts warn.

"This is an extremely sensitive subject. Satellite communications can be brought to a virtual standstill by any such pirate," said well-known satellite transmission expert Stephan Schulte.

"And the person doing the jamming would have almost no chance of getting caught."

Simply by aiming the dish at a satellite and transmitting a powerful radio signal, experts say that a ruthless satellite jammer could cause havoc several ways:

- Banks and other financial institutions which transfer funds by satellite hookups, could be thrown into turmoil.
- TV signals could be disrupted — or totally cut off.
- Magazines and newspapers which electronically transmit their pages to distant printing presses, such as USA Today and The Wall Street Journal, would find it difficult or impossible to meet their deadlines.
- Weather satellites could be put on the blink, severely limiting meteorologists' ability to forecast the weather.

Putting a jamming device together would cost "more than a couple thousand dollars" plus the cost of a satellite dish, according to expert Charles Magin.

A satellite dish costs from $1,000 to $3,500.

"There are over one million backyard satellite dishes in the U.S., and any one of them could be converted to transmit interference," said industry expert Patricia St. Charles.

9-year-old suddenly swept away by raging flood waters

LUCKY 9-year-old Robert Cunningham and his hero, Army Sgt. Matthew Edwards.

HERO GI CAN'T SWIM A STROKE — BUT HE SAVES DROWNING BOY!

By DICK DONOVAN
Staff writer

Heroic Army Sgt. Matthew Edwards saved a youngster from being swept to a watery grave in a rain-swollen drainage canal — even though the heroic soldier can't swim a stroke!

"I was afraid I was going to die. But Sgt. Edwards saved my life," 9-year-old Robert Cunningham said after his rescue. "He risked his life for me and he'll always be a hero to me."

Robert's brush with death came as he was returning home from school. When he tried to leap over a rain-flooded ditch, he plunged into the muddy swirling water and was swept away.

Edwards — a 13-year career soldier who's stationed at Ft. Carson but lives off-base in a Colorado Springs apartment complex — was about to take a shower when he heard his daughter screaming that a little boy was drowning.

Wearing only shirt and trousers, Edwards sprinted to a spillway downstream from the boy and, without a thought for his own safety, leaped into the rushing water just as Robert was being swept through a culvert running under a road.

"I tried to stand in the water, but it knocked me down," the gallant soldier recalled. "I fell to my knees about 20 feet in front of the boy and the current carried him into my arms.

"I was pretty worried because I can't swim a stroke. I could get him out...and me out." But Edwards managed to claw his way up the side of the canal and cling to Robert until police, firemen and paramedics responded to a 911 call.

"There's no doubt Sgt Edwards saved the boy's life," Police Lt. Rich Reuling said. "He's been nominated for our department's Life Saving Award. It's given to citizens who perform acts of heroism. And he deserves it."

saw the third-grader go into the water and yelled to motorists to help the boy. But no one stopped.

Rich folks really aren't very happy, says study!

In the past, the subject of money has been dealt with largely by economists. Recently, however, science has been exploring the personal side of money and its relationship to both well-being and discontent.

Would you be happier if you made more money? How are your temperament and personality related to the size of your paycheck?

Psychologists and sociologists have been putting the long green under the clinical microscope to find out as much as possible about how it affects people. Here's a look at their findings:

Who makes the most money?

By and large, the people who earn the most money are those who are the best balanced mentally and emotionally.

Are women more mercenary than men?

All up and down the line, evidence seems to indicate that women place money on a higher pedestal than men do.

What do people worry about most?

You guessed it — money!

Judicious management of the money that you earn is far more important to your peace of mind than how much you earn.

Is it true that money is the No. 1 cause of husband-and-wife arguments?

Yes. A nationwide survey shows that married couples argue more frequently and more bitterly over money than anything else.

Does a dollar look bigger to a poor man than to a rich man?

Yes, it really does. In a recent study a number of persons with low incomes tended to overestimate the size of various coins.

Would you be happier if you had more money?

Studies conducted by the noted sociologist, Judson T. Landis, show that people generally tend to be happiest during that period in their lives when they are working the hardest to make ends meet — not during the period when they are making the most money.

AIDS 'victim' who lectured at schools admits she lied

By SUSAN JIMISON
Staff writer

People were impressed when courageous Kellie Jungk publicly admitted she had the AIDS virus and spent a year visiting schools to describe her tragic experiences with the disease.

But admiration for the Avon, Conn., woman evaporated in an instant — when Kellie said she'd lied about her treatment and admitted she might not have the deadly ailment at all!

"She admitted she had made it all up," said Hudson H. Birdsall, Jr., Town Health Director of Avon. "I called the doctor she said she was seeing and he said he'd never heard of her.

"Now she's had an AIDS test, but she won't release the results and I expect she never will release them."

Kellie, 27, says that she was discharged from the Navy in 1989 after she was told that blood tests revealed she had the AIDS virus. She says she suffered many symptoms of AIDS — weight loss, seizures and stiffness in her hands.

A year after her discharge, she moved to Avon, got a job in a counseling agency and began speaking out on AIDS. Over the following two years she lectured extensively at universities and high schools about the deadly virus, often earning honorariums for her speeches. She also co-wrote a musical about her life with AIDS which won a state award.

"I accompanied her to speaking engagements," Birdsall recalled. "She talked about her treatments, about the drugs she was on, about conversations she had with her doctor. She told how she billed for her medical expenses so would cover it. She went into great detail about her frustrations in dealing with her doctor.

"But when I called the doctor, he'd never heard of her. I confronted her and she provided a written statement saying she'd made all the medical information up.

"That someone would need to go to this length to gain attention is a fact we need to use in judging her. We're dealing with someone more in need of sympathy and compassion than someone who has AIDS."

Kellie says she lied about being treated for AIDS by a doctor because friends and relatives were bugging her to get help.

But she never doubted the Navy's blood test results and would be shocked to learn she was HIV free.

She said she has had a repeat AIDS test and is considering suing the Navy if her test comes out negative.

"I will go to them and say, 'You took away two years of my life, now give it back to me,'" she said. "I'll be, like, lawsuit queen."

KELLIE JUNGK spent a year lecturing at schools about the treatment she was getting for AIDS. But she later admitted her story was all fiction.

Can't think straight? Blame it on the humidity

Humidity actually influences your ability to concentrate — when the humidity is high, you'll find it harder to think straight, say experts.

"The most pronounced effects are caused by humidity and rising temperatures," said psychologist Edgar Howarth, who did a study investigating how the weather affects people's moods.

High humidity lowers your ability to concentrate and creates drowsiness.

Rising temperatures during a cold period decrease feelings of anxiety, at the same time making people feel less able to cope with problems.

Sunlight, wind velocity and barometric pressure also have an effect on people's moods, said Dr. Howarth. Some scientists think mood changes might be caused by static electricity created by some weather changes. Others believe the mood changes are a learned response to weather conditions.

Blood-sucking bill collectors just won't leave me alone!

Dear Dotti: A few months ago I started getting phone calls from bill collectors threatening to take everything I own over a $10,000 debt that I don't owe! I tried to tell these morons that they've got me confused with somebody else but they won't listen and continue to threaten me every chance they get.

I've never even owned a credit card and pay for everything in cash. You're one smart cookie, Dotti. What should I do? — Worried in Fayette

Dear Worried: Call your local district attorney right away. These bill-collecting bozos are breaking a federal law against telephone harassment and by the time your D.A. gets through with them you'll be off the hook — and they'll wish they were dead!

You should get a REAL job because your column stinks!

Dear Dotti: I've just finished reading your column and to be perfectly frank, it stinks. The people who write to you are obviously in need of professional help but you just call them names and generally treat them like dirt under your feet. Why don't you get a REAL job — and a new life? — Angry in Toronto

Dear Angry: Your letter is stupid but you're right about one thing. Some people do need professional help — and you're obviously one of them!

My cheap husband feeds me happy hour handouts!

Dear Dotti: My husband is a big cheapskate. We both work and make good money, but he makes me buy all my clothes from thrift shops and won't take me out to dinner unless I agree to go to the bar with him for happy hour, where snacks like chicken wings and those godawful artificial crab cakes are given away free. I deserve better than this, Dotti. If you were me, what would you do? — Fed Up in Naples

Dear Fed Up: If a man asked me to eat off a community snack platter I'd spit in his face. Short of doing that you might very well take some of that good money you earn — and treat yourself!

I said no to his kisses — 'cause he slobbers on me!

Dear Dotti: I went out with this guy the other night, one thing led to another and the next thing I know we were smooching like all get out. This wouldn't have been so bad, Dotti, except the fool was slobbering all over me! If something like this ever happens again, what should I do? — Concerned in Brenton

Dear Concerned: You could bite off the bum's lips but why not do the easy thing — and find a new man!

My boyfriend's pricey gifts make me feel guilty as hell!

Dear Dotti: The man I'm dating is a real nice guy but he wants to start a big relationship and I don't. The problem is that he sends me expensive gifts that I feel guilty about taking. What should I do? — Confused in New York

Dear Confused: Get while the getting's good, kid. There'll be time enough to give this moron the boot after he runs out of money!

Dotti will answer your letters — and tell it like it is. Just write to her, c/o Weekly World News, 600 South East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33462.

Dear Nervous in Harding: That's what you get for slipping laxatives into your supervisor's milkshake!

Dear Big Mama in Sand Lake: If you really want the beach all to yourself, wear a bikini!

Dear Dotti Fan in Comfrey: The smoked salmon you sent was delicious. Got any caviar to go with it?

Dear Suspicious Gal in Crocker: An "invisible" condom? You've been had!

Dear Romantic in Fairmount: Money may not buy you love but it sure comes in handy when you pay the rent!

Dear Furious in Concord: I've got a better idea — go die!

Ask Serena

Is treasure really buried in my backyard?

Dear Serena: I've been told that there is an old mining treasure buried in my backyard. My husband and I have looked high and low for it. We even used a metal detector to no avail. Can you help? — Searching in Little Rock

Dear Searching: You couldn't find the treasure because you didn't look in the right place. Some $60,000 in diamonds and gold are buried in the extreme southwest corner of your FRONT yard!

Dear Serena: When I moved from one house to another last month my precious cat Donovan got lost and I haven't seen him since. Is he all right? Will I ever see him again? — Heartbroken in Mooresville

Dear Heartbroken: My crystal ball tells me your cat has used at least three of his nine lives while trying to find his way back home. He will show up on your doorstep before the month is out!

Dear Serena: I'm a single mother of a 13-year-old daughter and as embarrassed as I am to admit this, I don't know who her father is. Please look into your crystal ball and tell me true, Serena. Is her daddy Jack or Mark? — Wondering in Albuquerque

Dear Wondering: Neither one. The father is Tim.

Unsuspecting Erika Schineggar was raised as a girl and in time became the women's world champion downhill skier. Then Austria's ace athlete and the rest of the world learned the long-legged lady was really a man!

Now a loving husband and father, hairy-chested Erik, 40, says the toughest moment of his life came when he sat down with his 10-year-old daughter Claire and told her about his most peculiar past.

"She came through it like a champ," said the former femme fatale of the ski slopes.

"She put her arms around me and gave me a kiss and said it made no difference to her at all. To her, I'm just her dad."

Amazing Erik's bizarre tale began the day he was born in the tiny Austrian village of Agadorf. His sex organs were trapped inside his body and the midwife announced his mom had given birth to a girl.

It was a terrible error that would go uncorrected for the next 20 years.

"I always thought as I was growing up that I was different from the other girls," the gender-bending jock recalled recently. "But I never guessed how different I really was.

"Even the doctors were fooled."

By the time she was 20, astonishing Erika was a world champion skier and Austria's female sports personality of the year.

Perfume companies begged for her endorsement and eligible bachelors begged for her hand in marriage.

Then sports officials introduced world learned the mind-boggling truth. Erik was stripped of his title and booted off the ski team.

"It was as if I'd been hit by a sledge-hammer," he said. "Skiing had been my whole life." But there was a fascinating new life in store for the dethroned damsel. After a series of operations to undo nature's mistake, Erik became the he-man he should have been from the start.

The lady turned lady-killer tested his newfound virility with a series of romances, then wed a beautiful blonde named Renate and began his role of husband and father.

Someday, easygoing Erik and his wife would like to add to their loving family and have a second child.

Joking wife drives hubby BONKERS

A trembling taxi driver won a divorce from his wife of 25 years — after complaining his mischievous mate's practical jokes drove him stark raving mad!

"I just can't take it anymore," jittery Giuseppe Marra, 60, told a court of law in Catania, Sicily.

"For 25 years I've been living on the edge of a heart attack because of all her tricks."

The harried hubby said one of wicked wife Nunzia's favorite and most frequent pranks was to wait until he was asleep, then sneak up and yell "Earthquake!" in his ear.

HE DIVORCED HER AFTER SHE:

1. Poured soap in his cereal
2. Hid frogs in the refrigerator
3. Put itching powder in his pants

Jumpy Giuseppe said Nunzia also got a kick out of:

- Pouring soap in his breakfast cereal.
- Sewing all the pockets in his pants shut.
- Putting live snakes in his bed.
- Spreading molasses over the front seat of his cab.
- Hiding frogs in the refrigerator and lizards in the medicine cabinet.
- Putting stinky cheese under the hood of his car, where it melted and filled the air with a cab-clearing stench.
- Sprinkling itching powder inside his socks and in his undershorts and pants.

"There was nothing too nasty for Nunzia to do, and she always laughed her head off while she was making my life miserable," Giuseppe groaned.

But the final straw came when she tricked the flabbergasted cabbie into believing she'd been kidnapped by bloodthirsty thugs seeking ransom money.

"I was going out of my mind until I realized it was just another of her stupid pranks," said the hapless hubby. "Now I'm fed up. I want to live alone in peace."

Crook tries to make getaway in a police car!

A dinghat burglar got so shook-up when he set off an alarm at a warehouse he was robbing that he dashed outside — and jumped into an unmarked cop car! The dumbo desperado shouted, "Go, go, go," at the driver he thought was his accomplice — then realized he'd run straight into the arms of a detective responding to the alarm.

The confused crook was hauled off to jail in Wraysbury, England.

Boy, 8, rapes his babysitter, cops say!

After bragging to friends about his sexual conquest, an 8-year-old boy was arrested for raping his babysitter, police in Perth, Australia, said.

Are you ADDICTED to coffee and cola?

You can easily become addicted to the caffeine in coffee, tea or colas, an expert says — and there are eight telltale signs of caffeine addiction.

"Caffeine addiction is a very underestimated phenomenon," said noted psychiatrist Dr. Gregory Khoury. "It's important that the public be informed."

Here, according to Dr. Khoury, are the eight signs of caffeine addiction. If you have at least four of them, you're probably an addict.

1. Anxiety. A constant sense of unease or apprehension, coupled with irritability.

2. Chronic insomnia. The inability to sleep properly.

3. Depression. Frequently accompanying insomnia and anxiety.

4. Headache. Caffeine has a mild tendency to decrease the size of brain arteries. If you're addicted to caffeine and don't get any, blood vessels in your brain swell, causing an ache.

5. Weight loss. Caffeine can reduce appetite and even lead to anorexia.

6. Heart palpitations. Caffeine can speed up your pulse rate, making your heart race, sometimes irregularly.

7. Facial flushing. The stimulation of caffeine can cause hot flushes to the face.

8. Chills. Just like facial flushing, caffeine can stimulate waves of chilliness.

A heavy caffeine user drinks 6 to 10 cups of coffee, tea or colas a day — but some people will be affected after drinking much less than that.

Women wore bizarre coils from birth to please their men, but now . . .

Giraffe gals dump neck-stretching rings

— as women's lib strikes Burma!

WOMEN wore rings to stretch their necks out to incredible proportions, as shown above . . .

. . . NOW gals say they've had enough of this wacky custom — and have taken these off for good, right.

By JOE BERGER

Staff writer

Hundreds of harebrained gals from Burma's bizarre tribe of giraffe women defiantly hacked off the hoops around their necks — and now their heads just flop whichever way the wind blows!

"These women got mad and sawed off their neck rings, then discovered they have absolutely no muscles in their throats — so their heads sort of bounce around like balloons in the breeze," said Burmese researcher Dr. Din An Dyint.

"Most of them have been wearing the rings since they were babies, adding them one at a time over the years and stretching their necks to a foot long or more. Now they have to be extremely uncomfortable without all those hoops to support their heads."

To make matters worse, the tribe's ticked-off mankind are threatening to give the rebellious ladies the boot — because they think the ladies look ridiculous without a bunch of rings around their necks. "My wife was stunning, but now she looks silly with her head all over the place," said fed-up hubby Tuppe Ko Win.

"I have told her to put the our children to see their mother looking like that."

The peabrained Padaung tribeswomen decided to doff their neck rings earlier this year after one of them picked up a magazine in the nearby city of Loikaw and spotted a story about the glories of women's lib.

"We decided to have our own women's liberation right here," said long-necked lassie Murtu Grapa, leader of the have to wear these rings all our lives to make ourselves beautiful for the men if the men do nothing to make themselves beautiful for us? We want to join the women of the world and stand up for our rights."

So the cantankerous damsels hauled out the saws and hacked off the brass hoops that had encircled their necks most of their lives — then discovered they couldn't hold their feeling, with your head falling forward or sideways all the time," miserable Murtu told a visiting reporter.

"It is difficult to eat and almost impossible to breathe sometimes.

"But even if our husbands throw us out — and they probably will — we have vowed never to wear those rings again. The giraffe women have been pushed around for the last time."

YOUNGER giraffe women, left, before their necks are stretched out to the full 12-inch length!

'Marriage made in hell!'

Mom weds the monster who killed her baby

BABY killer Dean Hill wed his tiny victim's mom before a judge slapped him in prison.

...now she's going to have HIS child!

By SUSAN JIMISON/Staff writer

Pretty Margaret Belanger became the bride of her sweetheart, Dean Hill — the man convicted of killing her baby daughter!

"I know what he did was not intentional," the 21-year-old blonde told the judge at Hill's trial for first-degree reckless homicide. "The way the baby was that day, if I wouldn't of left, I might of been capable of the same thing."

The young Appleton, Wis., mom at first reacted angrily to the death of her daughter Mariah, 3 months, demanding that Hill get the maximum sentence and testifying for the prosecution. She later reversed herself and defended her lover. Critics call their wedding a "marriage made in hell" and say that Margaret suffers from battered woman syndrome. But the couple insist it's true love that brought them together.

On April 14, they were married in a private ceremony at the Outagamie County courthouse, with doors locked to keep the public and members of the press away. A week later, Hill was sentenced to 20 years DEAD BABY'S mom Margaret Belanger married the man who was convicted of shaking her 3-month-old child to death!

Hill's attorney, Nita Robinson, told Weekly World News. "She says publicly that she doesn't blame him for the death. She said at the sentencing that he loved the child and treated it well."

According to authorities and court testimony, little Mariah Belanger was shaken to death while Hill was caring for her in the home he shared with Margaret.

breathing. Attempts to revive her were futile. Mariah had been crying all day. Hill told police he was exhausted and fed up with the crying.

He says he bounced the baby on his shoulder, then put her down while he took a shower. When next he checked the baby, she wasn't breathing.

An expert testified at Hill's trial that the little girl had died from being shaken and that

But Hill's attorney said he wasn't trying to hurt the baby.

"Margaret never said anything negative about him at the trial," the lawyer said. "There wasn't a point where she accused him of killing the child. The child was difficult and behind in development, but he loved the baby.

"Now she is pregnant again with Hill's child. Now they're husband and wife — and he's

NEWS READERS: Sound off!

Do you have something you want to say to the newlyweds — baby killer Dean Hill and the mother of his tiny victim?

YES, I want to tell them:

Few marry their teenage sweethearts!

Most of us fell in love for the first time when we were teenagers — but hardly any of us married our first love, according to a recent poll of 400 psychiatrists.

"The majority of psychiatrists placed the age of first love for boys at between 15 and 18, and for girls at between 13 and 15," said Dr. Anthony Pietropinto, who interpreted the conclusions of the poll.

The psychiatrists felt that when people fall in love for the first time, they expect to marry that person — but less than 10 percent actually do.

"I would have to agree," said Dr. Pietropinto. "It rarely happens like it does in the fairy tales.

"The first love is a training experience. And while we think it's going to last forever, it just doesn't happen."

One of the questions the poll asked was: What is the strongest factor influencing the choice of the person one first falls in love with?

"Here the psychiatrists seemed to pretty much agree that it was the physical attractiveness of the women that influenced the men, while women responded to the attention they received," said Dr. Pietropinto, a top psychiatrist.

"The girl doesn't respond so much to how good-looking the guy is, but to how good he treats her. Unfortunately, men go for the girl who looks good."

Nervous owners give their pets the jitters!

If you're living with a nervous dog or cat, it's a good bet the pet got its condition from you.

Dr. Paul McCutcheon says the pets "almost invariably" reflect emotional problems of their owners. Pets also get depressed when there is a death in the family or when they are separated from their owners, said the veterinarian.

GIANT HOROSCOPE

For the week of
Mon., June 15 — Sun., June 21

By DONNIE BROWN, ASTROLOGER TO THE STARS

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

Kick up your heels!

It'll do you a world of good. Go out on the town with your sweetie and don't spare the expense.

You can always eat hot dogs the rest of the week!

A flash of insight helps you make up your mind about a problem that's been causing you sleepless nights.

A call from a distant loved one fills you with joy.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Relax and enjoy life!

You've been running so hard that you're close to being worn out.

Let those lazy family members carry the burden for awhile.

Someone you've always thought of as dull as dishwater thinks you're wonderful!

There's more here than you ever imagined. You know you enjoy flirting and it doesn't have to lead to anything if you don't want it to.

GEMINI
May 21- June 20

Be cool!

Jealousy could rear its ugly head this week unless you control your emotions.

Keep your lip buttoned. By Friday it'll all have blown over and you'll feel happy and loved again.

Indulge yourself with a special treat during your free time. It'll make you feel like a million bucks!

Something only you know how to do comes in handy at a party.

CANCER
June 21-July 22

Make a fresh start!

Don't worry about what's going on now because you can't change it.

Concentrate on making sure the future holds what you need.

Your desire to retreat from the hectic pace of your life should be heeded.

Take a few days off and enjoy the comforts of home.

Music brings you and an ex-sweetie together in a romantic way.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

You're in luck!

You hear about a local sweepstakes. Enter it! Odds are that you'll win a prize that you'll enjoy for years.

Everything favors successful negotiations this week.

If you've got your eye on having more money, now's the time to ask for it — and get it!

Be tactful with an admirer and you'll get hugs and kisses.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

You look good!

You feel even better! Taking care of yourself is paying off.

Enjoy the compliments. They're sincere. Now aren't you glad you went to that extra bit of trouble!

Ask a close friend for help when dealing with a frustrating event. The two of you will get it sorted out in no time.

Go to a party! Someone there is waiting to sweep you off your feet!

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Be patient!

It's one of your best traits, so use it in a prickly situation.

A neighbor is going to come around to your way of thinking sooner than you think, so just sit back and wait for it to happen.

Someone you thought was unattainable is going to call you. Be available! You won't regret it!

You'll be more comfortable if regular exercise is part of your life.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Get your own way!

Don't allow those around you to push you into decisions that you could regret.

So far you've always been the one to know what's best for you!

Your loyalty is the one you love is a big turn-on for them.

Keep it that way by being trusting — and by never prying into what doesn't concern you.

Your plea for cash is answered!

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Keep your temper!

Walk away from a cranky co-worker when disagreements become overheated. After you've both cooled down, you'll be seen as the one who's in the right.

An admirer loves your spunk. Sassy, flirty talk will get you anywhere you want with this person.

Learn how to relax. Spend some "down time" just lying around. Your spirits will perk up amazingly.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

Go for the thrills!

You love the excitement of romance — you'll find it this week when Cupid shoots an arrow right at your heart.

You're in for a special time as you exchange lingering glances with the object of your affection.

Good news is on its way.

A money problem that's been giving you sleepless nights is settled just as you prayed it would be.

If your birthday is this week . . .

Mon., June 15 — Sun., June 21

It's a blissful year!

You can look forward to twelve months of enjoyable and comfortable times with those who share your life.

Everything you do is praised and admired. It seems as if you can't do anything wrong!

Money flows freely into your pockets, and you feel free to spend it on what makes you happy.

Romance follows you through the year.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Win some fun!

There's cash waiting for lucky you at the end of a newspaper or magazine contest. Your clever way with words makes you a winner!

Spend your prize on something expensive and frivolous — and fun — that you and yours will love playing with.

Do something about those romantic longings you have. Make plans to see a life-long admirer.

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

You're sharp as a tack!

When a chance to make money lands in your lap, you know exactly how to take advantage of it.

Bank half of it and spend the rest on those who love you best.

Work out any problems troubling you by exercise. Even a little walk will soothe you — and make your body look and feel better.

Write down what you feel about a special person and send it to them.

Weirdo pays gals to pour syrup on his head, cops say

By JACK ALEXANDER
Staff writer

Somewhere out there on the street is a bona-fide, card-carrying weirdo with a pocketful of money who pays unsuspecting women to do such bizarre things as:

- Tie him up, stick a raw onion in his mouth and pour maple syrup on his head.
- Let him clean their apartment dressed as a French maid with painted toenails.
- Use him as a footstool before tying him up and stashing him in a closet.
- Handcuff him to a toilet in the women's rest room.
- All of the above.

"He actually did all these things and probably a whole lot more that we haven't heard about yet," said Tom Knitter, assistant chief of campus police at the Milwaukee campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Knitter's men arrested a man they identified as Michael Synowicz, 40, after getting a call that a man was cuffed to a toilet in the women's rest room at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

They checked it out and sure enough, Synowicz was cuffed to the toilet, wearing a cute little French maid's outfit.

CONVICTED of charges involving his strange behavior, Michael Synowicz vanished while he was out on bail.

Police charged him with disorderly conduct and lascivious behavior.

A woman later questioned by cops said she had been paid by Synowicz to handcuff him to the toilet as well as do other bizarre stunts.

The woman, whose name wasn't released by cops, ran an ad in the student newspaper seeking part-time work after she enrolled at the Parkside campus.

"Synowicz offered to pay her $100 if she would let him clean her apartment dressed as a French maid," Knitter said. "It seemed like a good deal, so she let him clean it several times. He paid her $100 the first time, but a lesser amount the other times.

"She also got paid $25 for putting a raw onion in his mouth before dousing him with maple syrup. During one cleaning day at her apartment, she got paid extra for using him as a footstool and tying him up in her closet."

The woman went along with his kooky shenanigans because he told her he was a university student going through a fraternity hazing ritual. "He even had a so-called fraternity hazing instruction sheet with him," Knitter said.

"And not once did he try anything sexual with her. She had no reason to be afraid of him."

But Synowicz has been convicted of charges involving unusual behavior at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Circuit Judge Dominic Amato found him guilty of disorderly conduct and lascivious conduct as a result of those incidents and sentenced him to nine months and three months, respectively.

Synowicz was released on bail while he appealed the convictions. Amato issued a new warrant for Synowicz's arrest when he lost the appeal.

"The police are still looking

AMAZON TRIBE WORSHIPS FACE ON MARS!

By ALBERT HIGGINS
Special correspondent

Members of a South American tribe know all about the Face on Mars even though they've never seen it!

That's the claim of German anthropologist Dr. Wilhelm Scharke, who says the savages and their ancestors actually worshipped the monument for 400 years before America's Viking probe "discovered" it for the world in 1976.

"These people are among the most primitive on Earth but they know more about the Face than most scientists," the expert told reporters in Ahrg, Germany.

"From what I understand they have worshipped the Face for at least 400 years. And they insist that their knowledge of it 'came from the stars.'"

Scharke said he discovered the tribe 200 miles from the north of Barra do Garcas, Brazil, in late September.

He instantly noticed that the masks they wore resembled the Martian monument, but he chalked it off as a coincidence until a tribal elder asked him to kneel at the altar of the "Sky God King" — which had the identical chiseled features and helmet as the Face.

"I inquired about their god and was absolutely stunned by the old man's reply," said Scharke. "He repeatedly referred to the Red Planet which we know as Mars.

"He also talked about messengers from heaven who gave his people the 'Light of Truth' and brought the Sky God King. There's no doubt in my mind that their god is the Face on Mars. The challenge before us is to find out how they heard about it. These people or their ancestors might have been contacted by extraterrestrials."

TRIBESMEN in the Amazon wear masks which experts confirm are exact replicas of the mysterious Face on Mars!

RED PLANET MYSTERY! Scientists cannot explain how South American Indians could know about the Face on Mars.

Scharke's report got mixed reviews from his colleagues. One went so far as to call the similarities between the Face on Mars and the tribe's masks and the myths "an interesting but meaningless coincidence."

Undaunted, Scharke vowed to return to the Amazon to see if he could prove that the tribe and the Face are linked.

"These primitive people might be able to help us make contact with an extraterrestrial civilization," said the expert. "Wouldn't that be something? To think that people who've never ridden in cars or flown in planes might be our ticket to the stars is really amazing."

The Brazilian government refused to comment on the expert's report. But one official, who requested anonymity, was particularly intrigued by it.

"Perhaps these jungle people have made contact with space aliens," he said. "We cannot deny the masks. They are remarkable evidence!"

Their masks are EXACT copies

Stick with the same doc and you'll get sick less!

People who stick with the same physician remain healthier than those who jump from doctor to doctor, a new study reveals.

"Continuity of patient care by doctors leads to greater patient satisfaction and shorter hospitalization," said Dr. John M. Wasson, who headed the study.

A total of 776 men, all aged 55 or older, were followed by Dr. Wasson for 30 months at the Veterans Administration Medical and Regional Office Center in White River Junction, Vt. About two-thirds of the men saw the same doctor during each visit, while the other third saw a number of doctors on a rotating basis.

The result: Patients who saw several doctors had nearly twice as many emergency admissions and days spent in the hospital than those who saw only one physician, Dr. Wasson went on to say.

When hospitalized, the patients who visited only one doctor stayed an average of 15.5 days — compared to 28.8 days for those who visited several physicians, he continued.

"And the rate of emergency hospital admissions for the continuous care group was 20 percent, compared to 39 percent for the discontinuous care patients."

In addition, the patients who saw only one physician were more satisfied with the care they received — viewing their doctors as more knowledgeable and more thorough, Dr. Wasson concluded.

Gals love their mates more than guys do!

Women feel love for their mate more passionately than men do and appear to like their partner more, an expert says.

"Men tend to fall in love earlier in a relationship, are less likely to end a failing relationship, and to suffer more when the marriage or romance finally ends," sociologist Dr. Carolyn Pernoll told the journal of Medical Aspects of Human Sexuality.

MAN'S BRAIN SMOKES WHEN HE THINKS!

You can always tell when businessman Barney Donaldson is coming up with a hot new idea — because his brain smokes when he thinks!

Incredibly, puffs of blue, sweet-smelling smoke come out of the 38-year-old consultant's ears whenever he concentrates. Experts have studied the Rockhampton, Australia, man's bizarre problem, but can offer no explanation for it.

"He feels no pain, no sensation at all — but wisps of smoke drift from his ears," said Dr. Henry Thomas, a neurologist who has examined and tested Donaldson. "The smoke appears to be the result of some sort of combustion, but it also contains a high percentage of water vapor.

"The phenomenon doesn't happen if the patient is relaxing or daydreaming. It only occurs when he is thinking hard. I have concluded, therefore, that it is somehow related to brain activity — but farther than that, I cannot go."

Donaldson, a father of four, says he has had his burning-brain problem for as long as he can remember. But he says that the smoke which puffs from his ears has become stronger and thicker over the past decade or so.

The affliction has naturally brought Donaldson a lot of attention all his life — some of it very unwelcome.

"When I was young, the other kids used to tease me," Donaldson recalls. "They used to say, 'Barney must be thinking, cause I can smell something burning.'

"I'd get so self-conscious that my parents had to make special arrangements for me to do my schoolwork in private. Now that I'm an adult, I still have to watch out or I will find myself the center of attention somewhere. I have to keep my mind empty. I can't think about anything serious.

my own business and work on my own, so it doesn't matter so much anymore."

Donaldson says the worst aspect of his smoking brain, other than the social consequences, is the air pollution it creates. The man is asthmatic, he says, and the smoke from his ears bothers him if he's in an enclosed space.

One of his two sons is allergic to the smoke and has to leave the room if his dad starts thinking. But otherwise, Donaldson says, his family has gotten used to his oddity and thinks nothing of it.

"Actually, sometimes it comes in handy," Donaldson says. "My kids don't disturb me when my brains are smoking because they know I'm thinking about something serious. It's a good way to keep them out of my hair."

DOCTORS say smoke drifts from Barney Donaldson's ears when he's deep in thought. At other times, such as when the 38-year-old businessman is talking on the phone, no smoke appears.

Why SUPERSTITIONS are GOOD for you!

Superstitions can make you feel lucky and even give you more confidence, says a psychologist.

"People may carry a lucky penny or charm. That makes them feel lucky, which in turn gives them confidence so they can accomplish more," declared Dr. Elayne Kahn. "Take the case of the guy who wants to ask his boss for a raise. He's scared and tongue-tied, so he takes his lucky charm out of his drawer and he puts it in his pocket."

Now, thanks to the charm, he feels lucky, confident and more in control, so he's better able to make his case for a raise, said Dr. Kahn, coauthor of 1001 Ways You Reveal Your Personality.

And superstitions can also help people ease their anxieties, Dr. Kahn revealed.

"For example, your daughter is 42 and you would like her to get married or your husband just lost his job. These are situations you don't have much control over and would find difficult to change.

"But if you make a wish on a chicken bone, for instance, you feel that you're doing something to bring about the change you want — and this can alleviate your anxiety over a situation you can't control.

"And gambling superstitions — like always playing a certain number — increase your enjoyment of a game by making you feel luckier and more likely to win," added Dr. Kahn.

"So superstitions are one of the few fun things in life that are easy to come by and free."

"I 'Retired Early'...

THEN MADE $27,000 PART-TIME IN A BUSINESS OF MY OWN"

"$27,000 Part-time isn't bad for a guy who quit his job. I 'retired early' from the insurance and securities business, now make good money part-time with Pace, and have as much work as I care to handle."

A true story by a very happy Pace distributor.

"I'm still amazed how things have changed for me since I became a Pace distributor! Let me tell you how it all started...

"When the national economy wasn't going too well, I decided to get out of the business I was in. I had given some thought to retiring, but was really too young for that. Well, it so happened my own commercial building had a leaky roof. Roofing contractor prices were literally sky high! Then I remembered an article about Pace Products and how with their exclusive Seamless Spray process you could actually bypass high priced contractors. I sent for their literature, saw how easy it was to sell, and I wound up doing the roof myself using Pace products and knew how.

"Well, word got around about how much money I had saved and that opened a whole new world of opportunity. Ever since then I've been like a cat on a hot tin roof! The first year I did 15 roof jobs. Almost double that the second year, and had a huge backlog. Most of these were big jobs like the county home, the Chevy Buick garage, bank buildings, any full. Big jobs mean big money!

"The business I used to be in had been pretty good to me, but I really had to work both nights and days. With Pace, business just seems to fall into your lap. I don't really do any promoting or 'selling' — most of my sales come from referrals, and my phone's ringing all the time.

"What I like to tell people is that Pace offers a fine income opportunity. You can start working as little as two hours a week and then go full time when your income exceeds your regular job."

What our successful Pace distributor is too modest to say is that he actually did over $100,000 worth of roofing business last year, in spite of living in a depressed farming area! And that's working less than half of the year, leaving the rest of the time for his family and other interests.

What makes Pace such a good business is that it costs a fortune for schools, hospitals, plants and other commercial buildings to have roofing companies repair or re-do their roofs. Pace bypasses the roofer—lets the building owner apply Pace Seamless Spray right over the old roof ... and the smallest Seamless Spray order earns you over $1,000 in commissions.

Pace ships the Seamless Spray equipment on Free Loan. Your customer pays only for the roofing products. His own men apply it (or if you want to make even more money, you can handle the application, too). It's as simple as that.

No Investment!

You, too, can enjoy the same success. Best of all, you don't have to invest a penny. You don't need any special background or experience. Of course, if you have selling, construction or application experience, you'll benefit even more so.

Pace is a proven winner. That's why it is used by such well-known firms as General Motors, American Airlines, Holiday Inns and thousands more.

Be Your Own Boss!

You'll like being your own boss and running a successful business. You can set your own hours, ease off whenever you feel like it, make your own decisions and stop taking orders from somebody else.

You can start out earning extra income part-time (with the option of going full time anytime you wish) ... or go right into a full tilt Pace offers that kind of flexibility. There is no waiting, either. You can start making money from your very first day. You get your big commissions up front. Paid in advance, weekly!

Barefoot farmer, 87, has NEVER worn shoes!

Rip-roarin' 87-year-old John Akers has spent more than three-quarters of a century plowing fields, chopping wood and hunting rabbits — and he's done it barefooted!

By LAUREL BOWIE
Correspondent

In fact, John hasn't had a pair of shoes on his feet since he was born back in 1905!

And he's convinced that being footloose and fancy-free is what's kept him fit as a fiddle.

"If everybody'd just throw their shoes away, then they'd be as healthy as I am," said the feisty farmer from Doughorty, Okla.

"I haven't been sick in years, mostly because my feet never hurt. When your feet hurt, you hurt all over."

The free-spirited father of three — and grandfather of 10 — says his parents rarely wore shoes and he's never owned a pair in his life.

He has lived through a lifetime of hunting, fishing and farming without subjecting his footsies to work boots.

"I tried on a pair once and that was enough for me. I walked right out of the shoe store and never looked back," John recalled.

"My feet have been banged up a few times over the years, that's for sure," the grizzled gramps said.

"I've run nails through 'em and chopped my toes with an ax, but that's still a whole lot better than wearing shoes," said John, who treats his wounds with turpentine and sugar.

"And now my skin's as tough as leather, so nothing bothers my feet — not stickers or snow or nothing."

Good-natured John goes unshod even when he travels to the big city of Davis, 10 miles down the road.

"Everybody in town knows I don't wear shoes so it doesn't even make them look up anymore," he said.

FOOTLOOSE and fancy-free, barefoot farmer does some raking, left; sits a spell, right; and passes out some homespun advice to just about anybody who'll listen, top right.

The King works miracle after miracle after miracle

HEALING SONGS OF ELVIS: Loving mom Delores Pritzl eases her daughter Michele's pain with a tune of The King.

Elvis cures teen's brain cancer!

By ROSE GRADY
Special correspondent

Teen Michele Pritzl stared death in the face four times but she battled her way back with help from one of God's special angels — Elvis!

"I'm alive today by the grace of the Lord and with a lot of help from Elvis," the gutsy 17-year-old told The NEWS.

Michele's terrible string of tragedies began when she was only 13 and suffering from agonizing head pains. A CAT scan revealed she had an inoperable brain tumor. The news shattered Michele's mother.

"I cried hysterically," 41-year-old divorcee Delores Pritzl recalled as she sat with Michele in their home in Warrenville, Ill.

"I felt as if I had been torn into a thousand little pieces."

Radiation treatments reduced the tumor by 75 percent, but Michele's hair fell out and the blinding headache pain persisted. To ease her daughter's suffering, her mom played records from Michele's large and treasured Elvis Presley collection. Because the pain persisted, it was feared that the tumor was growing back and another CAT scan was ordered.

The night before she was to have it, their minister, Rev. Donald Hoffman, stopped by on my head and we all prayed," Michele recalled. "He asked God to make the pain go away."

The next day, her baffled doctors told her the tumor had completely vanished.

"I was more shocked than when I first learned Michele had the tumor," mom Delores said.

"Michelle told me she felt the tumor leave her. It was a miracle."

Two years later, tragedy struck a second time when Michele suffered a stroke and lay in a coma for eight days.

Day after day, her loving mom kept a bedside vigil, praying and playing Michele's favorite Elvis religious songs. Once again, prayers were answered and the youngster suddenly awoke from her coma. A couple of years later, Michele had recovered to the point where she could walk and run. Then tragedy struck for a third time. While looking for her dog, she was struck down by a pickup truck. At the hospital, doctors found that Michele had suffered another stroke.

'God sent my little girl a

"I prayed to God and said, 'If You're going to take her, take her now. She's suffered enough,' " Delores said.

Once again, she kept a lonely vigil and played Michele's Elvis records. And 28 days later, Michele awoke from her coma. But the ordeal had left her blind! Slowly, Michele battled her way back until she was well enough to leave the hospital and go home.

"She accepts everything that life hands her and just goes on," Delores said.

And there's no doubt that

Monks' home brew is a pain in the glass!

Townsfolk want a local abbey to stop selling wine in glass containers — because the stuff is so strong consumers get blasted and smash bottles all over the neighborhood. The residents of Cambridge, England, say plastic bottles would keep drunks from belting each other, leaving broken glass and bloody heads for local officials to deal with. But the monks say their 15 percent alcohol drink wouldn't taste good if it's stored in plastic.

"Besides," says Brother Richard, an abbey spokesman, "plastic is more expensive."

U.S. tourist gets 4 years in prison for carrying a condom!

SEVERE sentence shocked 28-year-old businessman Charlie Albertson.

He's doing hard time in an Asian hellhole!

By RICK TRACY
Special correspondent

An American tourist has been sentenced to four years at hard labor in a filthy foreign prison because he had a condom in his pants pocket.

"Why would anyone want to carry a condom unless, of course, he was up to some mischief?" said the cop who arrested Charlie Albertson, a businessman from Los Angeles, Calif.

A judge in Colombo, Sri Lanka, agreed and dealt out speedy justice to the shocked, 28-year-old American, who was flabbergasted that he had broken the law by being prepared for safe sex.

Having a condom in your possession is as serious as carrying a gun in the eyes of Sri Lanka law. "And ignorance of the law is no excuse, no matter what country you are from," said Judge Piyal Gamage.

The heavily opposed law was passed two years ago by conservatives and religious leaders anxious to upgrade the country's morals and stop a population explosion.

"You're between a rock and a hard place in this country if you want to have sex," Albertson said.

"You run the risk of AIDS if you don't use a condom or hard time in prison if you're caught carrying a condom."

Gamage and other judges throughout Sri Lanka have sentenced at least 400 men to prison for illegally carrying condoms. Most of them are foreigners, but Albertson is the first American to be imprisoned.

"I was routinely searched upon arrival in Sri Lanka," Albertson told his father in a phone call. "The condom was in my wallet. I thought they were joking when cops clamped the handcuffs on me. I soon found out they weren't."

Opponents of the weird law and family planning experts are trying to get the law stricken from the books, but their efforts aren't likely to help Albertson anytime soon.

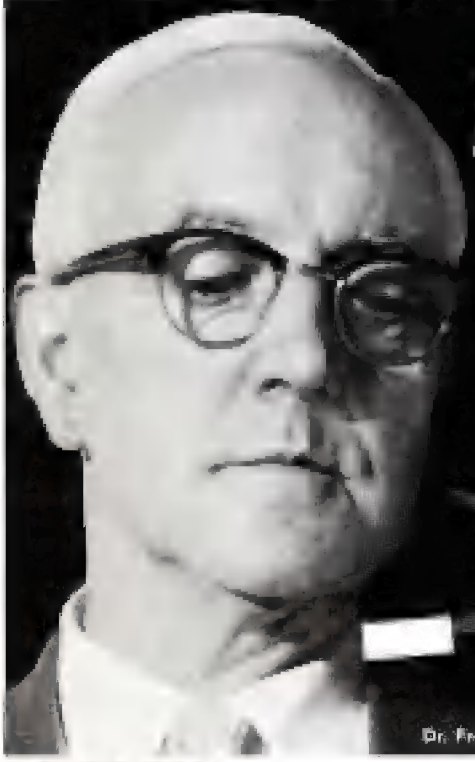
COMA COLLEGE

Doctor gives patients a bachelor's degree in just 3 hours — while they snooze!



Dr. Frederik Mann

By BEATRICE DEXTER
Special correspondent

A psychiatrist in Monte Carlo can give anyone a college education in just three hours — while he or she is knocked out under general anesthesia!

Dr. Frederik Mann, 59, has caused a furor in Europe with his new technique, which has already been tested on 17 university-age students. The doctor's patients listened to high-speed tape recordings of math, literature, history, science and art facts and emerged from anesthesia with years of knowledge packed into their heads.

"It's incredible," said Sergio Venanti, father of an 18-year-old girl who took Mann's "Coma College" course. "My daughter was never a good student and I didn't think she'd ever be able to complete four years at a university.

graduates. She is now an expert on Shakespeare, knows all about Italian opera and whips through complicated math formulas with ease. With an education like she has now, she can go out and get herself a terrific job."

Dr. Mann began his breakthrough brain work last year after reading of research conducted in England that proved people could absorb information while on anesthesia.

The study, involving 51 heart

He assembled all the facts a normal college student would learn in four years of study and put them on a three-hour high-speed tape. Incredibly, patient after patient absorbed the entire tape completely — and emerged from anesthesia with a college education!

"This is the educational breakthrough of the century," Dr. Mann told fellow psychiatrists at a recent conference.

"My research shows that this anesthesia method even boosts I.Q.! I look forward to the time when all youngsters will be educated this way — cheaply, quickly and effectively."

Dr. Mann has worked with 17 young patients so far and says he has more than 200 waiting to be processed.

"The only problem I've ever seen with this method is that some patients may react negatively to the anesthesia, experiencing nausea and dizziness for several hours after the course," Dr. Mann said. "But considering what they gain from the procedure, that is an insignificant drawback."

Venanti, a businessman from Rome, strongly agrees.

"Spending time with my daughter now is like spending time with an intellectual," he said.

"Believe me, that's a lot better than the way she was."

THIS SILVER DOLLAR ESCAPED GOV'T MELTDOWN!

This original U.S. Gov't "Morgan" Silver Dollar was designed by George T. Morgan. Morgans were first minted from 1878-1904. Then, millions of them ($70,232,722 to be exact) were melted down when the military needed silver during World War I. This increased the value of the surviving silver dollars dramatically. In fact, a very rare Morgan sold for $357,500.00 in 1989!

Now National Collector's Mint has just released 2,873 specimens from 71-114 years old! It will offer the entire stockpile to the public immediately at a guaranteed price of $10 each, first come, first served. For 10 years our lowest price was $17.50. Therefore, price is guaranteed for one week only and a strict limit of 100 Morgans per customer is being enforced.

Each Morgan comes with a Certificate of Authenticity verifying that it is a genuine U.S. Gov't Morgan Silver Dollar containing .77344 oz. of pure silver in fine condition (or better). We invite you to compare this price with others or check numismatic publications to see how prices may vary. Of course, your satisfaction is guaranteed or return your order within 30 days for insured mail for a full refund!

Throughout American History people did almost anything to get their hands on Morgan Silver Dollars. Jesse James robbed trains for them. John Dillinger held up banks for them. And now, you can acquire your own piece of history for just $10. We cannot guarantee price of upcoming releases. So don't delay. Avoid disappointment and future regret. ACT NOW!

Be a slob for a day — it's good for you!

By KEN YOUNG
Special correspondent

You can add more enjoyment to your life and relieve tensions by spending a day just being a slob, declares an expert.

"Always fussing about your hair, clothes and appearance can be stressful and fatiguing. But being a slob for a day can give you a breather from worries — and do a lot for your spirits," said psychiatrist Jack Leedy.

"Among other benefits, being a slob for a day will help you find your spouse, children and friends accept and like you just the way you are — with your hair let down."

Being a slob doesn't mean that you stop bathing, brushing your teeth or attending to other personal hygiene matters, explained Dr. Leedy.

"But it does mean giving yourself a break from your everyday appearance worries. It frees you from having to be when you're supposed to be relaxing — and that can lift your spirits."

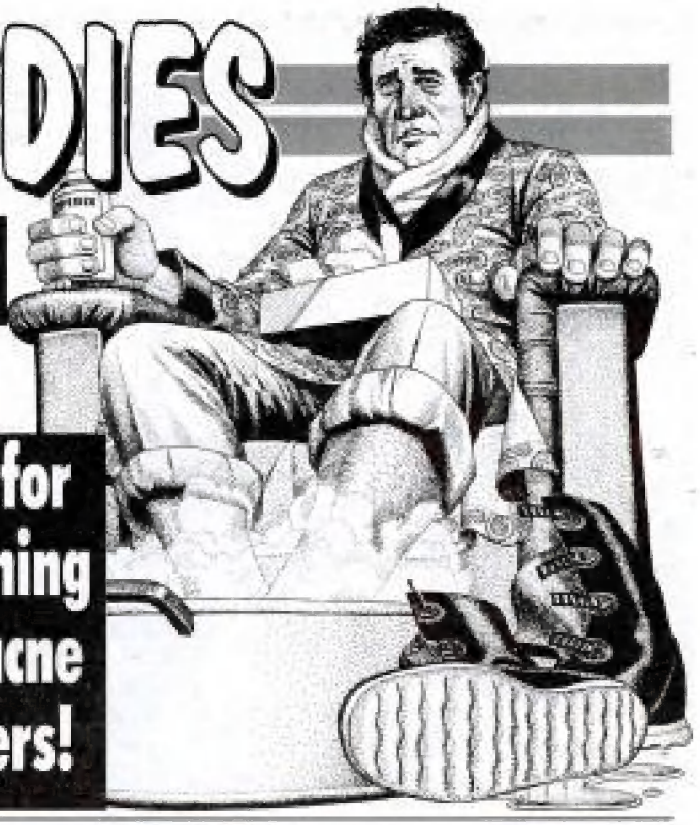
Simply choose a day you are off from work, said Dr. Leedy. "Get up at your usual time and put on any old thing. Don't use makeup or do elaborate things to your hair — just relax and go through your day enjoying the freedom from worrying about how you look."

In addition to boosting your spirits, being a slob for a day will make you feel more casual and spontaneous — and even bring out the child in you.

"Being a slob for a day — two or three days a year — reminds you that what's important is not what you wear or how you comb your hair but what's on the inside. It lets the real you shine through!"

HOME REMEDIES

THAT REALLY WORK!



Cures for everything from acne to ulcers!

By TERRY KEATON/Special correspondent

You can treat everything from ulcers and allergies to arthritis and acne with simple home remedies that are recommended by doctors — and darn near free!

That's the word from the editors of Prevention magazine whose exciting new book, The Doctors Book of Home Remedies (Rodale Press, $26.95), contains well over 100 do-it-yourself cures for just about anything that ails you. Here are a few of the super tips you'll find in the book:

● Acne. To keep your face clean, use over-the-counter medications that contain benzoyl peroxide and be sure to spread the medication beyond the infected area to stop the spread of zits. Contrary to popular belief, you SHOULD squeeze pimples that have a yellowish head in order to speed healing.

● Allergies. Air condition your home and car if you can afford to and be sure to wear an inexpensive dust mask — available in hardware stores everywhere — while doing household chores. Seal bedding in plastic to trap the allergens created by dust mites. Treat symptoms with over-the-counter antihistamines.

● Arthritis. Learn to relax. Try to exercise regularly in a swimming pool. Don't push yourself physically no matter how good you feel. Do get plenty of vitamin C.

● Bad breath. If you're worried about your breath avoid stinky foods like garlic and onions, spicy meats like pastrami and pepperoni, strong cheeses and strong drink. Coffee, beer, wine and whisky are murder on your breath. Stick with water instead. Regular brushing and flossing are a must. Don't forget to brush your tongue.

● Colds. New studies show that vitamin C speeds the healing process and can cut the length of colds by 50 percent. Don't forget to sip hot chicken soup, which increases the flow of nasal mucus, helps clear your nose and rids the body of cold germs.

● Heartburn. Chronic sufferers should avoid caffeine, chocolate, cigarette smoke, fizzy drinks and fatty meats. For relief, loosen your belt, sit up straight and take an over-the-counter antacid.

● Hiccups. Most people can get rid of hiccups by swallowing a teaspoon of sugar.

● Insomnia. Go to bed at the same time every night. If you can't fall asleep within 15 minutes, get up and do something pleasantly monotonous, like watching TV. When you feel drowsy, go back to bed. Avoid stimulants before turning in.

● Snoring. If you're fat, lose weight. Steer clear of booze before bedtime. Always sleep on your side instead of your back.

● Ulcer. Different foods cause ulcer flare-up in different people. Know what bothers you — and avoid it. Over-the-counter antacids relieve pain.

● Fatigue. You can boost energy by starting the day off with a balanced breakfast of cereal and milk and a protein food like cottage cheese, low-fat yogurt or a small piece of chicken or fish. To keep energy levels high, set goals for yourself and do your best to resolve problems, which can tire you

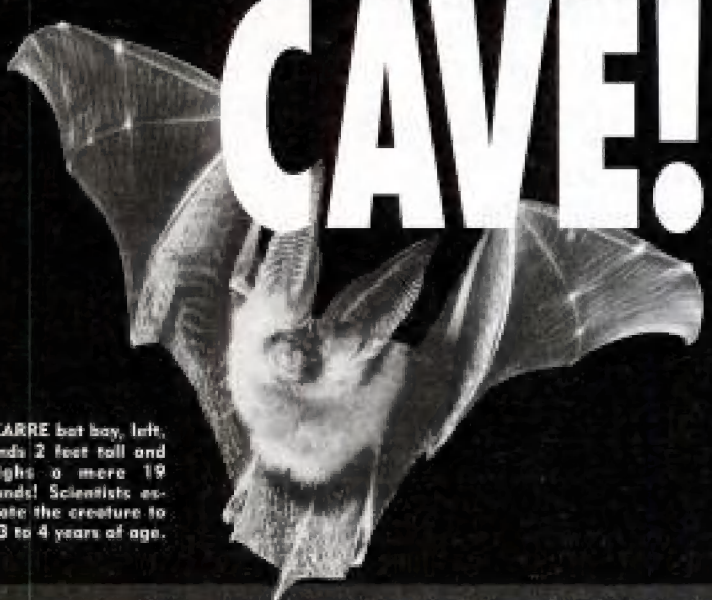
IN WEST VIRGINIA CAVE!



BIZARRE bat boy, left, stands 2 feet tall and weighs a mere 19 pounds! Scientists estimate the creature to be 3 to 4 years of age.

By BILL CREIGHTON

Special correspondent

Scientists claim to have found an astonishing "bat boy" in a West Virginia cave. The strange creature has enormous amber eyes that enable him to see in the dark and oversized ears that work like radar!

Even stranger, Dr. Ron Dillon says the boy communicates with high-pitched squeaks and squeals and refuses to eat anything but flying insects that he catches himself.

"I hardly know what to make of it," said the zoologist. "The boy appears to be human but he is unlike any other human I've ever seen. His eyes are twice as big as they should be and his ears are like satellite dishes. This boy clearly belongs to a race of people who live miles beneath the Earth's surface. And it is my guess that they evolved bat-like features and abilities to enable them to survive in total darkness.

"There's no telling how many of these creatures are down there," he added. "This particular boy was all alone but he almost certainly strayed from a much larger tribe or pack."

Dillon and seven colleagues found the so-called bat boy during a study of subterranean life in a previously uncharted cave east of Seneca Rocks in the Shenandoah Mountains.

The scientist said that he and his team were approximately two miles underground when they heard the 2-foot, 19-pound creature squealing frantically in an apparent plea for help.

"We turned our lights in the direction of the cries and found the boy with his bare foot wedged in the crack between two rocks," said the expert. "To tell you the truth, I thought I was seeing things.

"The last thing I expected to find at that great depth was another human being, much less one that looks like he came from outer space." Dillon said he freed the boy's foot and lifted him up for a closer look.

The child appeared to be stunned at first — then lashed out like an animal caught in a trap.

"I couldn't believe how strong he was," continued the expert. "He scratched and clawed and fought like crazy. We finally subdued him with a tranquilizer injection.

"Then we brought him to the surface and took him to a private hospital for testing and observation. Since that time we have learned a great deal about him.

"But we still have more questions than answers."

Dillon said the bat boy appears to be 3 or 4 years old and has adapted to life in captivity quicker than expected. Feeding was a problem at first. But the boy has been eating well and has actually gained weight since scientists stopped giving him human foods — and began to flood his room with bugs.

Dr. Ron Dillon

"We get them from laboratories involved in insect research and release them into his room by the millions," said Dillon. "Like a bat, the boy cannot tolerate bright light.

"But he still manages to consume his own weight in bugs every single day by locating their position with his radar-like ears and catching them with his mouth and hands.

"Needless to say, he is extremely active. When it's time to feed he moves like lightning. It's the most astonishing thing I've ever seen."

Dillon refused to pinpoint the location of the cave where the boy was found or say where the child is being held. He did say that he is planning a second expedition in the hope of proving that the boy belongs to a subterranean civilization that exists miles beneath our feet.

"This strange little boy might very well lead us to a world within a world," said the expert. "No matter what happens, he's going to change
